

SEEN, HEARD AND TOLD

By W. W. WHITAKER
When he feels like it.

(By Mrs. WWW)

The Editor came to the GCW office Wednesday afternoon, first time since April 15. Said he - "It's nice to be here, at one time I didn't think I would make it, but my loyal family, two good doctors, and the grace of God, has put me on the road back."

Editor Whitaker says he is bound to get better, he has two good doctors now, Dr. J. K. Avent and Doctor Morris Isaacson, looking after him.

At the regular City Council meeting Monday night the final resolution was passed ordering the issue of bonds amounting to $375,000 for construction of the Negro school and stadium. The stadium to be used by both whites and Negroes.

Also brought up was the matter of a franchise on the new bus line proposed by Archie Hoffman and John Ed Carpenter. Atty Semmes presented this business and the franchise was placed on file at the City Clerk's office for a 15-day period for study. This business will come up at the July meeting.

All light signals holding the sign "turn right on red" have been discontinued. Following this procedure has created a traffic hazard. So, take notice, NO more right turns on red.

Well, we have one new, and probably the last, candidate to announce this week, and that is Wilhite for Public Service Commissioner. Also J. K. Walker of Poplar Creek, Beat 5, Montgomery County, for Floater.

The Air Port access road is to be blacktopped, costing $4437.00 and to be paid for out of Air Port Fund.

Well, we see where Calhoun City was visited by a stiff wind and hail storm about 7 o'clock Monday morning, doing about $50,000 damage to garages, trees, plate glass, etc. As Bryan Baker says, "getting closer to us every time."

Grenada has enjoyed spring-like weather the past week, 54 degrees at night and in the upper 70s during the day.

We add our congratulations to thousands of other friends of Ben W. Sinclair of Lakemont, Ga. who was honored recently when the State of Georgia named the magnificent lake and power plant located on Oconee River for him. The project is named Lake Sinclair, also Sinclair Dam. Mr. Sinclair served in many capacities, including that of President of Georgia Power Co. He started work at Tallulah Falls in 1912 upon graduation from Georgia Tech. He and Editor Whitaker were both members of the Class of 1912 at Georgia Tech. and still keep in touch with each other. Mr. Whitaker also worked as engineer at Tallulah Falls for several years.

Sunday afternoon when the children came to visit their daddy, I took the opportunity to go for a short drive alone.

I went out the Cuff Hill road which is blacktopped to the intersection of No. 8, followed the old Wilkins road to where one turns north into the road which connects with No. 7 Highway at Bew Springs. On this rural gravel road is located the old homes of the Owen families. The home where Miss Lida Owens was reared and where Col. Percy Duggen of Arlington, Va. was reared. These old homes are today neglected, and are used just as tenant houses, however, in days gone by, when the owners lived there they were attractively surrounded by flowering shrubs, pear, peach and apple trees, and abundance of flowers such as hollyhocks, flags (now known as common iris), cape jasmynes and crepe myrtle. This road is narrow, with banks covered with lush grape and muscadine vines, huge oak trees and underbrush. Near the home where Col. Duggen was reared, the road crosses a dry creek bed, over head reaches long limbs of aged oaks. We of past generations have witnessed great changes since Col. Duggen was a boy there. About 50 years ago two strong hands were the most useful "appliances" known in house-keeping. The housewife used her hands for everything from firing the stove to sweeping the floor and emptying the pan under the ice box, now, of course, push button servants makes modern women "Queen of the Day, Every Day". J. K. Walker Is Candidate For Floater Representative

J. K. Walker, farmer in the Poplar Creek community of Montgomery County announces his candidacy for Floater Representative of Montgomery and Grenada counties.

In a message to the people of the two counties concerning his candidacy, Mr. Walker states:

"I am announcing as a candidate for Floater Representative of Montgomery and Grenada counties with the firm conviction that I have a fair understanding of the mounting problems that face us with each passing day, and in the belief that I can be of value to you in our state legislature.

Being of a conservative nature, I shall stand totally opposed to new taxes, and any increase of present ones. I feel that taxation has gone too far, and that the time has come for efficiency and economy in government. We should stop going deeper and deeper into debt and begin working toward getting relief for taxpayers. With more efficiency and less waste, I believe we can accomplish this.

"I am a farmer and know how hard it is to make a dollar. If you see fit to elect me your Representative, I will fight to see that when a dollar goes out you get a full dollar's worth in return. I have the interests of the people at heart, and will do my dead level best to see that everybody gets a square deal.

"Segregation, in my opinion, is for the good of both races; and I shall certainly support our dual school system.

"This is my first time to ask for public office, and I do so now feeling I can render real service in these troublous times. Your vote and influence will be appreciated."

Accident on Highway 51 South

On Sunday, June 12, Dr. and Mrs. Newton S. Stern of Memphis and Mr. James R. Downs of Grenada were involved in a serious wreck near Glenwild Plantation.

Highway Patrolman Wayne Wenger investigated and stated that the Downs' car, in avoiding crashing into a truck, went out of control and hit Dr. Stern's car. Both Dr. Stern and wife received treatment for their injuries at Grenada Hospital and Garner Bros. ambulance took them to Baptist Hospital in Memphis.

Occupants of the Downs' car received no serious injuries, however both cars were badly damaged.

Grenada girls taking part in Girls State this week at Belhaven College in Jackson are Mamie Willingham, Camille Shephard and Faye Hemphill. This event, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary is in the interest of good citizenship and good government.

over this change I thought about what Editor Hodden Carter said recently at the Rotary Club, concerning the ignorance of the youth of today and the shabby school facilities we have. I am reminded that Col. (Dr.) Duggen, who came from rural Mississippi became head of Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C. and served as head of American Hospitals in occupied Germany following World War II, and had many positions of dignity and importance. He was not hindered or handicapped by environment from becoming a success. He is not only a military man of outstanding characteristics, but an eminent surgeon. No, I think we need something besides the "props" in our education. We need serious minded and ambitious parents and God-fearing parents, at that, and teachers who are as interested in the development of their pupils, as a teacher should be. Parents and teachers who respect each other, usually manage to impress the boys and girls with the fact that education is a serious matter and is the greatest serious problem that youth has to solve. Mr. Carter, a very sincere man, is also a product of Mississippi schools and, his sons, students in a nationally known university of the East also attended high school in Greenville, Miss. So, all in all, success or failure is where you find it, and it is up to the parents, children and teachers to prepare children for success or failure.

Sam Wilhite Announces For Public Service Commissioner

WEST POINT, Miss. (Special) Sam Wilhite of this city today announces his candidacy for Public Service Commissioner of the Mississippi State of Mississippi. He is a native of this city and a member of the Methodist Church. He is a veteran of six years overseas service with the U. S. Navy during WW II enlisting as an apprentice seaman and being discharged as a lieutenant. During recent years, Mr. Wilhite has been active in several state and national Democratic campaigns.

He is a graduate of West Point High School and Mississippi State College, receiving a BS degree with the class of '41. While at State, he was editor of the weekly student newspaper, THE REFLECTOR, and president of his class. He worked his way through college as a tutor to members of the football squad.

More recently he worked with the Chamber of Commerce in West Point, the Public Service Commission, the BAWI program, and the office of the governor.

As secretary to the Chamber of Commerce in his hometown, Wilhite was instrumental in obtaining a federal grant of one million dollars that provided housing for over 100 families in the low income bracket. During the same time he helped promote the Northeast Mississippi Livestock Show that attracted national attention when Cedric Foster, the noted commentator spent three days in West Point broadcasting the event over a nation-wide network.

During his time as Secretary to the Chamber of Commerce groundwork was laid for future industrial growth that since has materialized and made West Point one of the better balanced cities of the Deep South.

Later as a representative of the Agricultural and Industrial Board, he contacted industrialists in the North who have since established plants that are now contributing to the growth and development of North Mississippi.

In 1950 Wilhite joined the Public Service Commission as secretary. In this capacity he kept the records, directed the office personnel, set the dockets, and had general supervision of the commission.

"My experience as secretary to the commission, my first hand knowledge of the workings of that agency, will enable me to fully assume the duties of the office the day I am sworn in - there will be no 'breaking in period' necessary. Although I have never held the office, I know the duties and the responsibilities involved."

Since 1952 Wilhite has worked as administrative assistant on the staff of the Governor. During this time he has worked with many civic, veterans, educational, agricultural, industrial, and religious groups in promoting legislation and other programs designed to improve economic and social conditions in Mississippi.

"My long and varied experience in political and civic affairs, on the local, state and national levels, has enabled me to make the personal acquaintance of many of the leaders your public service commissioner needs to know and work with in order to serve the people," Wilhite said.

Background Scripture: II Chronicles 35: 11 Kings 23: Devotional Reading: Psalm 122

Before Worship

Lesson for June 19, 1955

I DON'T seem to get much out of church. You can hear that complaint too often. Maybe you have made it yourself. Let's leave the question of the sermon out of the picture. The sermon isn't all you go to church for. The object of that meeting, on Sunday morning or whenever it is, is to bring you closer to God, to make God real to you, to send you back into your every-day life with a radiant heart and a mind, at peace. The object of your going to church is, in one word, worship. Hymns, prayers, offering, meditation, sermon—all of it ought to blend into one blessed experience of worship, that is to say, an experience in which you and others with you meet with God. Why doesn't this always happen? Maybe the fault is with the people, not with the minister alone. One good preacher can't make a good service all by himself.

Encouraging the Minister

In the Bible story of Josiah and his great Passover, there are some valuable suggestions that even after all these years and all these changes can help us too. The Passover was the great festival of worship among the ancient Jews; it was observed every year. But the chronicler reports about this one of King Josiah's, that there had not been one like it since the days of Samuel; or in other words, it was the best Passover in about 400 years. What made this one so special? Three points stand out. One is that Josiah "encouraged the priests in their service." Put into modern terms, that means the people encouraging the minister. You always see the minister at the door after service, shaking hands with the people. They may tell him they enjoyed the sermon; but how many who tell him that, helped him beforehand? How many of them prayed for him, not while he was preaching but long before, when he was working on his sermon? When a religious chicken-farmer is taking his poultry to market, he doesn't pray that they will be good chickens. The time to pray for that is back when the eggs are hatching, when they are in the baby chick stage, while he is selecting the feed, and so on. By the time the chickens are ready for market it's a little late to be praying about it. So the time to begin praying for your minister and encouraging him is while his sermons are hatching, so to speak; before, not only after, the service.

"Prepare Yourselves"

We read also that King Josiah said to the Levites, "Prepare yourselves." The first part of Christian belief is that all believers are priests. A service of worship, as we understand it, is not a kind of performance in which the minister goes up there behind the pulpit and tells us all while we just sit and wait for him. One reason why we go a little out of church is that we put so little into it. If you had an interview with the President of the United States, wouldn't you make some preparation for it? You don't just "drop in" to see a man as important as that. And yet people will go to the house of God without the least preparation. They may be well dressed, but their minds are only half-dressed and their souls are more than half asleep. You have a right to come before God with a burdened heart; he welcomes the heavy-laden. But you have no right to expect much from a so-called worship service which you enter with a mind cluttered with workaday botherations you won't let go, with a heart hardened by pride, with a spirit almost of defiance, as if you said to the minister, I dare you to interest me!

"Prepare for Your Brethren"

Josiah also told the Levites to prepare for their brethren who were coming to worship. True worship in a church is not an individual affair, as if each person present were sitting in a separate cell listening in by ear-phones. There is no point in "public" worship unless there is some sharing, some fellowship, some opening of the heart. A service of "worship" from which the people stream homeward without speaking to one another, or praying for and with one another, is a poor affair.

SEEKS TAX POST

N. R. Thomas, well-known Jackson businessman, has announced that he will seek election to the office of State Tax Collector in the August Democratic primaries. Offering his candidacy as "a businessman for a business job," Mr. Thomas pledged that, if elected, he would run the office of State Tax Collector "with the same courtesy and understanding with which the late Alf Stone so ably served the taxpayers of Mississippi as chairman of the state tax commission."

Mr. Thomas has been in business in Mississippi for more than 40 years. A wholesale and retail dry goods merchant, he began travelling the state in 1908 as salesman for a wholesale dry goods house. "I believe I know the problems of the taxpayers as well as any man," he said "because I have been dealing with the same problems every day for more than 40 years in the operation of a business of my own."

Mr. Thomas is married and the father of three children.

ROY C. ADAMS THANKS THE PEOPLE

It is with gratitude and thankfulness that I express my deep appreciation to the citizens of the 31 counties comprising the Northern Highway District for the confidence shown in me and our administration that has made it possible for me to run unopposed for the office of Highway Commissioner. I will ever be grateful and appreciative for this honor and would like to renew my pledge of service to you. You have our assurance that we will strive to conduct the business of the Highway Department in such a way that will merit the confidence shown in me and our administration. I would like to take this opportunity to give you a progress report on our accomplishments and the work that has been done by our administration since we took office on January 6, 1948.

When driving over the Northern Highway District during my campaign for, and since assuming the duties of the office of Highway Commissioner, I have fully realized if we are to keep step with our industrial and economic growth, our Highway System would have to be developed, improved and paved as quickly as possible. These needs prompted us to ask the Legislature in 1948 to give the Highway Department a construction program and the Pay-as-you-go Road Program was enacted into law in 1949 and funds were made available in September 1950. This program gave a great deal of aid and progress was made but provided very little money for building and paving our rural Federal-aid Secondary Highway System.

Realizing the urgent need of rural road improvement, the Highway Commission in 1954 requested the Legislature to supplement the Pay-as-you-go Road Program by permitting the Commission to issue $18,359,000 in bonds without raising the gasoline tax. Such authority was granted with the provision that 75% of the money be used to match accumulated Federal money for highway construction which would not have been spent otherwise. We are pleased to report that the Northern District's one-third of the 25% "free" fund remaining has been applied 100% to the building and paving of the roads on our rural system of Federal-aid Secondary Highways.

When all the contracts that have been awarded in the Northern Highway District are completed we will have constructed (graded, drained and bridged) 792.5 miles of highways, and will have paved 812.1 miles by contract. We have paved, reconstructed or resurfaced with the State Highway Department's maintenance forces 404.2 miles, for a grand total of 1216.3 miles of paved, reconstructed and resurfaced highways in the northern Highway District.

We have accepted for maintenance from the 31 counties of the Northern Highway District 402.9 miles of road that have been brought up to the required standards by the various Boards of Supervisors.

We have not been able to do all the work that we and the people would have liked for there are still improvements needed. The progress we have made has been done through the splendid cooperation we have received from interested citizens and the various officials. I want to assure you that we will exert our efforts and energies for further improvements and it will be my purpose and desire to continue to conduct the business of this office to merit the confidence you have shown in me and our administration.

Thank you again for the support and cooperation you have given us. With your continued confidence, understanding and assistance we can and will solve many of the remaining road problems.

Yours Very Sincerely,

Roy C. Adams

HOME AGENT NOTES

Shrubs and Summer Pruning

Watch all evergreen shrubs for red spider and bagworms. During dry spells spray evergreens with water to help keep down red spider infestation. If red spider becomes serious sulphur dust is recommended.

Bag worms can be controlled with a spray of 10 teaspoons of arsenate of lead mixed with a gallon of water. Or you can hand pick the bagworms and burn them.

Try summer pruning on shrubs if you want to have a beautiful bushy well shaped plant that will bloom profusely.

Summer pruning means pruning the shrubs as they grow. Do this by cutting or pinching out the growing tips to make the vigorous new shoots form several branches.

Richard Todd and Jean Peters are obviously very much in love in this scene from "A Man Called Peter", showing at the Grenada Theatre Sat. 10 p. m., Sunday 2 & 4, Monday and Tuesday.

FIRST STATE MEDICAL SCHOOL, TEACHING HOSPITAL OPENS

A milestone in medical history for Mississippi will be reached July 1st with the opening of a new $9,000,000 University Medical School and Teaching Hospital in Jackson, the first of its kind in the history of the state.

The opening of the magnificent new medical center after almost three years of work and a total cost of $9,000,000, marks the beginning of a new era in medical education and patient care.

The project, one of the final lines in the long range war on disease and sickness, not only will train doctors, nurses and other hospital technicians for the future but will provide a center of research, education, prevention and patient care.

The teaching hospital itself, part of the carefully studied overall planned facilities for a modern medical college, is Mississippi's largest, boasting 350 beds and facilities for the care of 10,000 out-patients annually.

The patients from the nearby Charity Hospital in Jackson will be the first to occupy the space and span facilities.

The school itself, providing the first 4-year medical course ever offered in Mississippi and under supervision of the University of Mississippi School of Medicine which was established in 1902, will matriculate 32 juniors at the beginning of the Fall term. The school eventually is expected to provide facilities for over 300 student doctors.

Mississippi's doctor shortage, especially in remote rural sections, has been acute for many years and inspired a state-supported scholarship plan for financing physicians upon the condition that they return upon graduation and practice for a required time in a rural community.

Although the state has conducted a highly successful and widely recognized health program for years, the serious shortage of hospital facilities was brought to light in 1946 through a survey which showed a shocking shortage of beds.

Recognizing the emergency, the legislature in 1946 appropriated funds and set up the Commission on Hospital Care to undertake a remedy through federal funds made available under provisions of the Hill-Burton Bill.

Since that time scores of new hospitals and medical centers have been established, increasing the number of beds in every section. The average Mississippi today is within 25 miles of hospital facilities.

The scheme of the hospital program in Mississippi has followed as nearly as possible the practice of taking the hospital to the patient rather than trying to bring the patient to the hospital. This system provided the rural, then the regional hospital, and now the medical center in Jackson. Thus the doctor can have facilities at both the local and regional level, and patients can enjoy the benefits of local treatment plus the advantages of higher level research, skill and highly specialized medical care.

The growing need for the medical school and base hospital as the core of this system was recognized by the legislature in 1950, at which time an appropriation of $4,000,000 was voted. To this sum was added $3,000,000 of federal funds and $1,500,000 of Hinds county funds for construction of the teaching hospital.

In order to make Mississippi's new school-hospital one of the best in the nation, the State Building Commission, which administers state funds, the Commission on Hospital Care, a special advisory committee of physicians, and an association of architects worked hand in hand in studying and planning the huge project.

Also working closely with the state agencies and the architects was a special advisory committee composed of a representative of the State Medical Association, Dr. Temple Ainsworth of Jackson, Dr. David Wilson of Jackson, Dr. D. S. Pankratz, dean of the University School of Medicine, and the late Dr. A. C. Bachmeyer, former director of the Medical Clinic of the University of Chicago.

A thorough and careful study of the needs of the school and hospital was made. Experts in every field of medicine and hospital administration were called in, and hospital and medical schools from California to the East Coast were visited and inspected.

The entire building, an integration of the Medical School with the Teaching Hospital, contains 458,000 square feet of floor space, 224,000 of which is allocated to the school, and 212,000 to the hospital. A 32,000 foot service building is attached by a tunnel.

The Medical School contains eight departments, each major department containing a student laboratory and large lecture room. A library is situated on the second floor.

The school and hospital have been set up to provide facilities for (1) care of patient, (2) education, (3) research, and (4) prevention.

The outpatient department, capable of handling 200 persons per day, will include medical and surgical facilities, obstetrics and gynecology, pediatrics, and specialty clinics for eye, ear, nose, throat and dental patients.

The hospital portion of the building contains 250 beds, half of which by law must be used for charity cases. Six nursing floors, each with two nursing wings accommodating 30 beds each, are included. The surgery section on the second floor provided 10 operating rooms.

A central sterile supply and laboratory serving surgery below occupies the third floor, and obstetrics suites are situated on the floor above, with 48 bassinets for the new born nursery, 16 incubators for a premature nursery, and 3 bassinets in isolation nursery.

Emergency patients are received in a large emergency department accessible on the ground floor by ambulance and automobile. An X-ray department completes medical facilities.

The impressive building is located on an elevated area on a 44-acre site in near North Jackson on state-owned property at one time occupied by the State Hospital for the Insane, now at Whitfield. It is conveniently located at the junction of U.S. Highway 51 and North State Street.

"Farm of the Week" — Last Week

—This Series Sponsored by Jitney-Jungle, Grenada.

The farm pictured above is that of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hayward, Sr. and is located on old No. 7 Highway near Haverway.

The Hayward family has resided on this farm for 50 years. As a young man, Mr. Hayward was employed by the Barksdale family, later bought land and had extensive holdings in farm properties. When the War Department needed a site for Grenada Air Base they secured from Mr. Hayward 1200 acres of land. When the Grenada Dam area was home of Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Hayward doesn't show up very well in this picture, but all of this property is in splendid condition and adds greatly to the prosperous appearance of the community. Mr. Hayward and family are members of the Presbyterian Church. He is a Mason and member of farm organizations. The tenants on the farm have lived with the Haywards since he first started farming. Most of them were born on the place. On the farm, located north of the air base are two constructed ponds. The grade cattle and pure bred Hereford bulls also are fed corn, cotton seed meal and hay. Mr. Hayward Jr. states that he prefers Ammonia N rate for fertilizer.

Tractors and up to date equipment and mules are used for cultivation.

No immediate building or soil conservation practices are necessary.

Home Gardens

A little extra care in your home garden will pay off in bigger production and tastier foods.

First of all, don't let the insects harvest your vegetables for you. Keep close watch for bugs and when you find them, do something about them. See your home agent for specific instructions on how to kill the bugs before they steal all your vegetables.

Make additional plantings. This is one good way to prolong the gardening season. If at all possible, water the garden during dry weather. However, if you do water the garden, do a thorough job.

Harvest vegetables at the desired stage of maturity, and when gathering, do not leave vegetables to fully mature and fall off. This cuts production.

If you want some fall tomatoes, now is a good time to plant and seed in hills. When the seedlings come up, you can thin to a desired stand. Make sure that you have plenty of mulching material on hand. A good mulch will help you keep down weeds and grass, will help hold down temperature of the soil and will help

Don't argue with this baby!

All Chevrolet's competitors and most of the high-priced cars tried it recently in official NASCAR* trials—and took a licking!

Meet the champ! The new Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8" — the most modern V8 on the road today. Here's what happened—

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Acceleration Tests Over Measured Mile From Standing Start. Chevrolet captured the 4 top positions in its class! 8 of the first 11! And on a time basis Chevrolet beat every high-priced car, too—but one! But wait!—this is just the beginning!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Straightaway Running. Open to cars delivered in Florida for $2,500 or less. Chevrolet captured the first two places, 7 out of the first 11 places!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR 2-Way Straightaway Running Over Measured Mile. Open to cars from 250 to 299 cu. in. displacement. Chevrolet captured 3 of the first 5 places!

Columbia, S. C. NASCAR 100-Mile Race on half-mile track. Very tight turns. Chevrolet finished first!

Fayetteville, N. C. NASCAR Late Model Event. Chevrolet again finished first. Because of even tighter turns the driver chose to run the entire 150 laps in second gear! Yet no overheating or pit stops!

These facts you can't laugh off. Sales leader. Road leader. A crowning achievement of Chevrolet and General Motors. Try a Chevrolet... and live in a land of going-away where you win all the arguments! Soon, maybe?

White Announces . . .

With reference to regulation of public utilities and telephone rates White said, "I believe the time has arrived when the next legislature will give the Public Service Commission the authority it needs to do the job that it was established to do—that is, to regulate utility rates in the public interest."

If I am elected your commissioner, I promise you that I will do just that - protect the people of my district and state from excessive rates with every legal means at my command. I shall conduct the affairs of the office with the dignity that the voters are entitled to expect of their elected officials, and I shall keep in mind at all times that I am an employee of all the people, and it will be their interest that will remain foremost in my mind."

White said he will try to contact as many voters as possible before the August primary. "In the meantime," he said, "I want every individual in the district to consider this a personal solicitation of his or her vote and influence."
